DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-25, drawn to the tibial augment device, classified in class 623, subclass 20.14.
- II. Claims 26-31, drawn to a method of use, classified in class 623, subclass 18.11.
- III. Claims 32-33, drawn to a pusher instrument, classified in class 606, subclass 99.
- IV. Claims 34-39, drawn to an osteotome, classified in class 606, subclass 167.
- V. Claims 40-44, drawn to a guide, classified in class 606, subclass 87.
- VI. Claims 48-55, drawn to a holder, classified in class 606, subclass 99.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and (III or V or VI) are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because a handle or augment portion (Group III, compare claim 32 to claims 20 and 21). The subcombination has separate utility such as a bone tamp or a device for insertion of an implant into another joint.

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product. See MPEP § 806.05(h). In the instant case, the product as claimed could be used in different methods of use such as using the augment in another joint (e.g. an ankle joint) or using it as provisional or trial sizing devices.

Inventions III, IV, V, and VI are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombinations III, IV, V, and VI has separate utility such as a bone tamp, an instrument to form an opening in soft tissue during surgery, a guide for use in making wood products, and a holder for a spinal implant, respectively. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to James Folker on August 22, 2006 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made. Mr. Folker stated that the restriction requirement could be put into written form mailed out.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Examiner Paul B. Prebilic whose telephone number is (571) 272-4758. He can normally be reached on 6:30-5:00 M-Th.
